Dobra Nowina

12 lutego 2017

Dzisiejsza Ewangelia dotyczy przykazania miłości bliźniego. Jego układ jest bardzo wzorcowy, obrazowy, odmienny od tego zapisanego wcześniej przykazania Boga. Proszę zwrócić uwagę na opis tego pierwszego: Będziesz miłował Pana Boga swego całym swoim sercem, całą swoją duszą i całym swoim umysłem. Tutaj jest tylko jedna wskazówka: tak - jak siebie samego. I od tej wskazówki należy zacząć odczytywać to przykazanie. Bo miłość bliźniego, bardzo mocno uzależniona jest od tego: "jak siebie samego", a to oznacza, że tak, jak potrafię rzeczywiście na siebie spoglądać, siebie kochać, tak i nie więcej mogę kochać swego bliźniego. Znany psychiatra Carl G. Jung w książce "Współczesny człowiek na tropach duszy" pisze: „Być może zabrzmiało to prosto, lecz rzeczy proste są zawsze najtrudniejsze. We współczesnym świecie trzeba najwyższej dyscypliny aby zachować prostotę, a akceptacja samego siebie jest istotą tego moralnego problemu oraz streszczeniem całego sposobu patrzenia na życie. To, że karmię głodnego, że wybaczam zniewagę, że kocham mojego nieprzyjaciela w imię Chrystusa - to wszystko niewątpliwie są wielkie cnoty. Co czynię najmniejszemu z braci moich - Chrystusowi czynię. A gdybym tak odkrył, że ten najmniejszy spośród nich wszystkich, najuboższy z żebraków, najzuchwalszy ze wszystkich grzeszników, nawet najgorszy mój wróg we własnej osobie - że oni wszyscy są w moim wnętrzu, że to właśnie ja sam potrzebuję jałmużny własnej życzliwości, że sam jestem wrogiem, którego powinno się kochać - cóż wtedy?...”.

SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME FEBRUARY 12

Good News!

February 12, 2017
 Sixth Sunday in Ordinary Time (A)
 Sir 15:15-20, 1 Cor 2:6-10, Mt 5:17-37

Saint Maximilian Kolbe died in 1945 taking the place of another prisoner in Auschwitz, but his martyrdom started many years before. As a young boy, he was quite a handful—so much so that at one point his mother cried out, “What will become of you?” Shaken by his mother’s grief, Maximilian went to the town church to ask our Lady what would become of him. He wrote that the Virgin Mother appeared to him holding two crowns: one white and one red. The white crown meant he would remain pure, and the red meant he would be a martyr. Our Lady asked Maximilian which one he would like. He chose them both.

We are offered choices as well. Sirach says that whatever we choose will be given to us, but what Jesus offers is challenging. Jesus offers each of us a new heart, a new spirit, a new love, and a new trust. Jesus defines what it means to be his follower, and it is a challenging task. This standard is not lowered for Christians, nor is it defined by what is legal in a country or popular in a social group. In fact, we are not only asked to live this life but we are called to teach it to others.

The rewards, however, are equal to the challenge. What Christ promises to those who love and teach his gospel is a glory and reward greater than any we have ever seen, heard, or imagined. Maximilian Kolbe knew this, and he fought earnestly for the truth in Nazi Germany, even though it led to his arrest and death.

For Reflection

What choices did Jesus place before me this week? How have I been an example of Christ to others this week?

Dear Padre

FEBRUARY 12, 2017

Does suffering please God? I've heard we should "offer it up," but to me, God is never pleased with pain.

Some think God sends suffering into our lives as retribution. In fact, God asks certain things—difficult things—of us so we can avoid suffering in our own lives, in the lives of others, and after death.

When a mother says, “Don’t touch that! It’s hot,” and her child touches it anyway, the mother didn’t cause the burn. She knows the consequences of that action and warns her children not to do it. If they disregard her, she doesn’t stop loving them. In the same way, God tells us how to live so we can avoid being hurt, and God never stops loving us.

Some suffering is unavoidable no matter how well we love and obey God. This suffering is the hardest to accept. Some is the result of our humanity.

Many seek to assign blame; others want to know why things happen. The truth is, sometimes there is no why, no clear purpose. When there is, we don’t feel it any less. We can only trust that God will turn it into something good.

God’s power turned a “meaningless” crucifixion into the means of our salvation. This is what “offer it up” means: By turning toward and imitating Christ, we find new depths of faith and hope.
